Top up with tap water at the tennis

TasWater is encouraging tennis fans to top up with tap water via its free water filling stations at this week's Hobart International Tennis tournament.

Portable water stations will be on site so members of the public can refill their water bottles with safe drinking water.

"We are proud to be able to support this tournament by offering free water to help everyone stay hydrated throughout the event," TasWater Corporate and Community Relations General Manager Juliet Mercer said.

"Refilling your own water bottle also helps reduce waste."

It is well known that drinking water is the best way to quench your thirst and avoid becoming dehydrated in the summer heat.
